OUR LOCAL GUIDE TO SUPER BOWL LII

f you're reading this right now, you're probably thinking: The Super Bowl in Minnesota? During one of the coldest months of the year in one of the coldest major cities in the country?

You betcha!

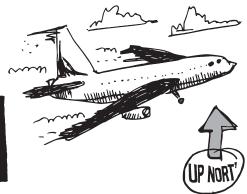

Welcome to the home of snow, 10,000 lakes (all currently frozen), and varying degrees of that Midwestern accent you love from Fargo. But with 17 Fortune 500 companies and almost 200 colleges and universities, surely there's more to Minnesota than just chilly weather and kooky accents, right?

You betcha!

To properly welcome you to our state—and to the Twin Cities specifically—we've rounded up some of our favorite things to do, see, eat, and drink. You'll find bars and restaurants, concerts and comedy clubs, Super Bowl parties and events, shopping tips, and even some day trips and destinations. If you need a day at the museum to balance out the helmet-slamming excitement of the field, or a place to engage in some mind-centering retail therapy, or just a spot to grab breakfast, find all that information and more in these pages. We know you're here for the big game, but for all those times you aren't at U.S. Bank Stadium, we've got you covered. (And pssst, don't tell the other guys, but we hope your team wins.)

Come watch the game with us or let us bring the party to you!

TWIN CITIES CHECKLIST

IF YOU'VE NEVER BEEN TO MINNESOTA, CHANCES ARE YOU KNOW US FOR
AT LEAST ONE OF THREE THINGS: SNOW, PRINCE, AND A GIANT MALL. AND YOU'RE RIGHT!
WE DO HAVE ALL OF THOSE THINGS. BUT WE HAVE MUCH, MUCH MORE.

EVEN THOUGH YOU MAY BE ABLE TO COUNT THE TEMPERATURE ON ONE HAND, THERE IS STILL A TON TO SEE AND DO OUTSIDE OF U.S. BANK STADIUM. HERE ARE THE MUST-SEE, MUST-DO FEATURES OF THE TWIN CITIES FOR WHENEVER YOU'RE NOT AT THE BIG GAME.

PAISLEY PARK

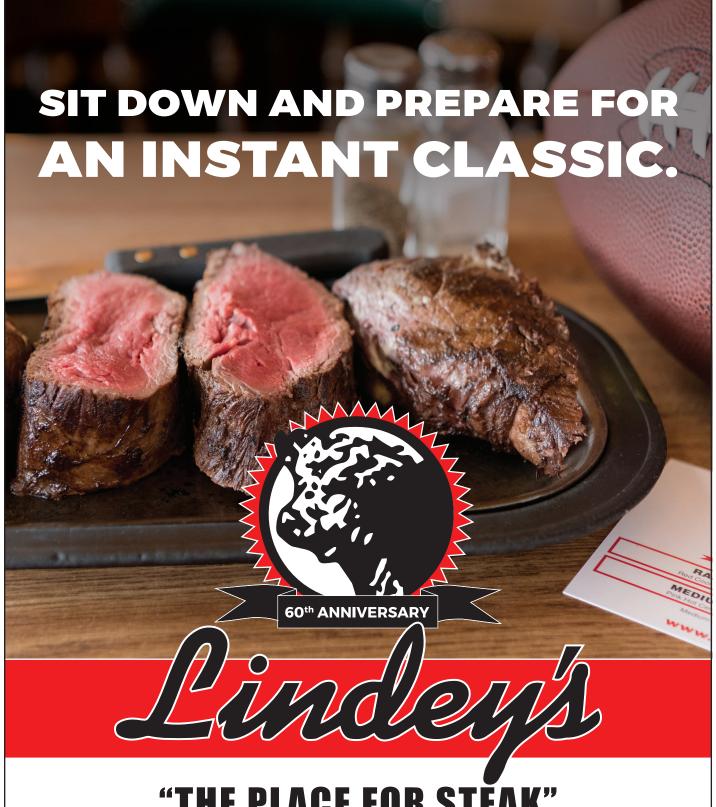

7801 AUDUBON ROAD CHANHASSEN, MN 55317

While Minnesota's most beloved royalty may be gone, you can still experience his life and music by touring his private estate, Paisley Park, in nearby Chanhassen. You'll know it when you see it, as the exterior looks like a giant fortress of sugar cubes. Once you're inside, you'll be able to check out the Purple One's production studios where he recorded some of his most iconic hits, and the legendary performance hall where Prince's famous late-night parties would take place. Other parts of the property have been turned into museum-like exhibits dedicated to the different eras of his music, while a handful of personal items have been left untouched in order to give visitors an intimate look into the life of Prince Rogers Nelson. Self-guided and VIP tours are available, making this one of the coolest and most affecting music experiences in suburban Minneapolis (or anywhere for that matter).

STONE ARCH BRIDGE

100 PORTLAND AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55401

One thing you'll notice about people in Minnesota is that we aren't scared to be active, even when it's freezing outside. The best place to see this in action is over at the Stone Arch Bridge, which crosses the Mississippi River. This pathway has been around since 1883, and used to carry passenger trains into nearby Union Station. Today, it is a hot spot for runners, walkers, and cyclists (cyclists don't take winters off either), and a great place to take in some incredible views of the city-you'll capture some of the most Instagram-worthy pics of your entire visit. Plus, the bridge connects some other very cool historical sites, including Mill Ruins Park, which was once the largest direct-drive

The historic walls and waterpower features are exposed, allowing visitors to see how it was the catalyst for industrial development that still drives Minnesota today.

MALL OF AMERICA

60 EAST BROADWAY BLOOMINGTON, MN 55425

Since 1992, the Mall of America has attracted visitors from all over the world looking to shop, party, and take in the spectacle of one of the world's premier entertainment attractions. Built on top of the land that once housed the old Metropolitan Stadium, the MOA is packed with hundreds of stores (including Wisconsin cheese specialties and a store dedicated to Mall of America merch, for all of your super-authentic souvenir needs), as well as the full-sized amusement park, mini-golf, and one of the biggest and best comedy clubs in Minnesota. Take a ride on North America's longest indoor zip line through the mall, swim with the fishes at Sea Life Minnesota Aquarium, and check out Minnesota music memorabilia at the Hard Rock Café. There are numerous nearby hotels offering free shuttles to and from the mall, so you won't have to haul your cheese curds and American Girl dolls through the parking ramp. (And as a reminder to our out-of-town friends, there is no sales tax on clothing in Minnesota. In case you needed another reason to shop.) Whether you've always wanted to ride a rollercoaster next to a Chipotle, or just see how lost you can get walking in a circle, the Mall of America is a rite of passage for any Minnesota visitor.

MATT'S BAR

3500 CEDAR AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55407 For the foodie tourist, Minnesota has countless unique, independently owned restaurants ranging from vegan butchers to fancy food truck fare. But if you want that real-deal Minnesota flavor, vou need to hit up Matt's Bar for a Jucy Lucy (yes, that's how it's spelled). Known for this world-famous burger stuffed with molten-hot cheese, Matt's has been serving it for more than 60 years, drawing the attention of TV shows, national newspapers, and even a visit from President Obama. who needed to see what all the hype was about. While the battle of "who invented the Jucy Lucy" is one of the most hotly contested debates in town, there is no more authentic experience than Matt's. Get there early as the line can be long, but it moves fast and is well worth the wait.

FIRST AVENUE

701 NORTH 1ST AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55403

Have we mentioned that Prince is from Minneapolis? In the heart of downtown Minneapolis is the iconic First Avenue music venue, where Prince filmed Purple Rain. You can't miss the solid black building covered in silver stars with the names of some of the biggest acts in music that have graced the stage over the years. The club still packs in crowds nearly every night of the week, hosting everything from concerts to dance parties, and even the occasional fashion show or pro-wrestling event. If you haven't posed in front of the star of your favorite performer, then your visit to Minnesota just isn't complete. Whether you're seeing a show, just passing by, or kissing the lone gold star dedicated to the man who made the venue legendary, this is a must for casual and diehard music fans alike.

Bring Her Home highlights the ongoing epidemic of missing and murdered indigenous women. It features original works by 18 visual artists from across the United States and many tribal nations.

In light of the local movement to stop sexual exploitation and the international #MMIW awareness campaign, Bring Her Home shares visual stories of the impacted women. Rather than reduce the issue to a statistic, curator, Angela Two Stars, challenges us to honor thelife of each indigenous woman as we would a sister, a wife, a mother, a best friend, a cousin, or a daughter.

lakes and explore an entire pop-up event, filled with stories, songs, games, and incredible on-ice installations. The Art Shanty Projects invite you to interact with a community of local artists who are reimagining the frozen surface of Lake Harriet and transforming it into a community of artistic expression that is unlike anything you'll find in other parts of the country. You will also see plenty of people ice-fishing, wind-surfing, and cross-country skiing, because in Minnesota it's lake season all year long. Free and open to the public, this is a great way to see how the winter conditions of the Midwest can actually be a thing of beauty and creativity, instead of just really freaking cold.

MINNEHAHA FALLS

4801 S MINNEHAHA DRIVE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55417 Speaking of winter beauty, have you ever seen a waterfall that is completely frozen in place? Over at Minnehaha Falls, one of the oldest and most popular parks in Minnesota, you can check out the 53-foot waterfall that cascades over the limestone bluffs into the river below. which is usually frozen completely solid this time of year. There are easy-to-navigate walking paths that take you up and around the falls, and picturesque backdrops make for the perfect snapshot of you and family braving the Minnesota elements. The park is open all year round and attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors each year, making this the perfect escape for anyone who needs to take a time-out from the insanity of downtown and get back to nature.

THE MARY TYLER MOORE STATUE

505 NICOLLET MALL MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55402

Ask your mom about this one, kiddos. Back in the 1970s, The Mary Tyler Moore Show put Minneapolis on the map as the girl who could turn the world on with her smile. The Emmy Award-winning series made Moore an entertainment icon, and to pay homage to her career, there is a statue on the newly renovated Nicollet Mall of Moore tossing her sassy beret into the air. Countless people have posed with the statue, and now you too can make it after all! If you're a diehard fan, you can also check out a handful of other famous landmarks from the show, like the house that was used for exterior shots of Mary's apartment (located at 2104 Kenwood Parkway); RSM Plaza, which served as the exterior for WJM-TV (801 Nicollet Mall); and the IDS Center Crystal Court, where

SAINT PAUL WINTER CARNIVAL

75 W 5TH STREET ST PAUL, MN 55102

Across the river in St. Paul is the annual Winter Carnival with free events for the whole family. For over a century, the Winter Carnival has been a staple of the season in St. Paul. Spanning the entire city, the event offers everything from an amateur snow sculpting competition to an extreme, bungee-powered ski/snowboard/snowskate X-Gamesstyle competition. This will help you answer the question, "What do people in Minnesota do when it's freezing and snowing all the time?" You will also be able to meet the 2018 Oueen of Snow, along with the rest of the Winter Carnival Royal Family. In honor of the Super Bowl, this year there is also a "Family Bowl Passport" that you can download, print, and have stamped at participating locations throughout the Carnival, such as the Science Museum, Saint Paul Library, Minnesota Children's Museum, and more. Come party with frozen royalty and celebrate the winter all week long!

TOM WALLACE / STAR TRIBUNE

THE SCULPTURE GARDEN/ SPOONBRIDGE & CHERRY

726 VINELAND PLACE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55403

If you've ever stumbled across a brochure about Minnesota, there's a good chance you've seen a snap of our Spoonbridge & Cherry. This is the centerpiece of the Walker Art Center's outdoor sculpture garden in downtown Minneapolis. While relatively young by art exhibit standards—the garden turns 30 next year-the entire area was newly renovated and reopened this past summer to be more sustainable, create more space, and house several new works of art including mirrors, bells, and a giant blue rooster. Free and open to the public every day from 6 a.m. until midnight, the garden features a variety of unique and thought-provoking artwork unleashed into the urban wild. It's the perfect way to add some culture into your weekend, and a welcome alternative to the insanity of downtown.

or PAT'S TAP

3510 NICOLLET AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55408

There are going to be countless parties and concerts happening all over town this week, but if you're looking to enjoy some nightlife that is more about video games and skee-ball than fancy drinks and celebrities, we've got two great bars you need to check out. Up-Down, located on Lyndale in Minneapolis, is an insane retro-video arcade with classic games from every generation. From Pacman to The Simpsons, you'll be transported back to your junior high days except now vou can drink (legally)! All games are only a quarter, and they have a full bar with over 60 beers on tap. Meanwhile, just a few miles away, Pat's Tap features a unique menu that's perfect for any time of day (although we're partial to the brunch), and they also support local agriculture in a variety of their signature dishes. Oh, and did we mention they have skee-ball?

XCEL ENERGY

199 W KELLOGG BOULEVARD ST PAUL, MN 55102

For one weekend, Minneapolis might be the football capital of the world, but most any other time of year this is hockey country. Over in St. Paul, the Wild hit the ice at the Xcel Energy Center, which also plays host to a number of concerts, expos, and other events year-round. See the space for vourself when the venue hosts the Super Bowl Opening Night festivities on Monday, Jan. 29, showing that our sports teams all play Minnesota-nice with each other. Then head back for a bit of hockey: The Wild are in action at home the Friday before the Super Bowl, so you can make it a big sports weekend with plenty of Midwest flavor.

The Best Places to Drink Near U.S. Bank Stadium

THE SUPER BOWL WITHOUT A NICE, COLD DRINK IS LIKE TOTCHOS WITH NO CHEESE.

IF YOU DON'T GET THE REFERENCE, YOU WILL. IN YOUR TIME IN THE TWIN CITIES, YOU WILL INVARIABLY END UP IN A BAR-MINNEAPOLIS HAS PLENTY OF THOSE-WITH A BASKET OF TATER TOTS IN ONE HAND AND A TALLBOY OF GRAIN BELT IN THE OTHER. SINCE THE OPENING OF U.S. BANK STADIUM IN 2016, THE POPULATION OF WATERING HOLES HAS CONCENTRATED AROUND VIKING VILLAGE, MAKING IT EASIER THAN EVER TO FIND A PLACE TO PARK YOUR BUNS, ORDER UP A PINT, AND CHOW DOWN.

WE'VE SCANNED THE SIDEWALKS FOR THE BEST BARS WITHIN STUMBLING DISTANCE OF THE BIG GAME.

VIKINGS LONGHOUSE

530 CHICAGO AVENUE

Specialty: Capacity Distance from stadium: 479 feet

The designers behind U.S. Bank stadium might not have thought about the arena's resemblance to a Jawa Sandcrawler, but they perfectly engineered the drinking experience. Directly outside the stadium's gigantic sliding doors is the 115-foot, 800-person Vikings Longhouse. It looks like an oversized bus stop, but inside that rectangular glass pavilion is an impressive collection of macros and local beers.

ERIK THE RED BAR

601 CHICAGO AVENUE

Specialty: Scotch and other whiskies

Distance from stadium: 0.1 miles The cockamamie fusion of North Carolina BBQ and Norwegian cuisine shouldn't logically work, but it does, and Erik the Red is reaping the benefits of these brazen menu decisions. They also know that a good, smoky Scotch goes best with lingonberry barbecue sauce, and their list of whiskies is the best you'll find in the shadow of U.S. Bank Stadium. Order two fingers and a round of sliders, and you'll be properly insulated for the short walk to the game.

BAR ZIA

420 S. FOURTH STREET

Specialty: Ridiculous martinis Distance from stadium: 0.3 miles Bar Zia tries to pass itself off as an erudite cocktail lounge, but it has the spirit of a madman mixologist. Never mind the fact that they have a cocktail called Cinnamon Toast Crunch on the menu, Bar Zia is just a fun place to be. It's like a speakeasy at Disneyland. Order a sundae and a ChocZtini and indulge the parts of your personality most bars discourage.

ZEN BOX IZAKAYA

602 S. WASHINGTON AVENUE Specialty: Sake and chuhai Distance from stadium: 0.4 miles If you've always wanted to cheers a thimble of sake with Ultraman, Zen Box Izakaya can indulge that peculiar fantasy. If you're a normal person who just likes reasonably priced donburi and super dry Asahi, Zen Box can accommodate that, too. The anime interior and playful, fruity drink menu make for Downtown West's most interesting atmosphere. Do your best to get in the door for late-night happy hour six nights a week (9 p.m. to 10 p.m. Mon.-Thurs. and 10 p.m. to midnight Fri. and Sat.).

CROOKED PINT ALE HOUSE

1105 S. WASHINGTON AVENUE Specialty: Bloody Marys Distance from stadium: 0.4 miles The meat-and-potatoes crowd will find plenty to appease their down-home sensibilities at Crooked Pint. A no-bullshit Irish pub that typically caters to fans of the Notre Dame Fighting Irish, Crooked Pint is built to sate big, rowdy crowds with cheesy apps and shaker pints. But Crooked Pint is perhaps best suited for a recovery meal—their starchy weekend brunches will set you back to normal after a hard night celebrating (or lamenting) your team's performance.

DAY BLOCK Brewing Company

IIII S. WASHINGTON AVENUE Specialty: Microbrewed pub beers Distance from stadium: 0.5 miles Of the 120-odd breweries in Minnesota, Day Block is by far the closest to Super Bowl ground zero. It's also one of the few with a full bar and kitchen, meaning everyone can get what they want while you inhale a few flights. Mix in a sloppy pulled pork sandwich, and you've got yourself one of the heartiest pre-games in the vicinity of the stadium. Coffee kolsch gets the job done if you're starting at breakfast.

HOPCAT

435 NICOLLET MALL

Specialty: Dictionary-sized beer list

Distance from stadium: 0.7 miles The Minneapolis version of this craft-beer bar chain has 80 tap beers, including 30 from the Gopher State. It's a pretty cursory selection made mostly of flagships, but if you're looking for a broad-strokes introduction to the local brew scene, this is your one-way ticket. Start with something simple like Urban Growler Cowbell Cream Ale and work your way to darker stuff like Insight Devil's Companion. You won't be finding any Bud Lights, though—HopCat explicitly forbids anything brewed by AB InBev.

GRUMPY'S Bar and Grill

501 S. WASHINGTON AVENUE

Specialty: Rail drinks and grease bombs

Distance from stadium: 0.5 miles
Any dive bar worth its glittery barstools knows how to handle grease. Grumpy's is a Twin Cities institution, and the downtown location serves up an array of gut-busting burgers and sandwiches that proudly declare the bar's prominence as an iconic local watering hole. But it's Grumpy's 18 tap beers and cut-rate liquors that make it an ideal Super Bowl stopover.

TOWN HALL Brewery

1430 S. WASHINGTON AVENUE Specialty: Pale ales
Distance from stadium: 0.8 miles
Two words: Masala Mama.
One of the most underrated beers in the Twin Cities, Masala Mama is a standby IPA that

FULTON'S WARMING HOUSE POWERED BY CENEX (HEATED TENT)

harkens back to the days when IPAs weren't competitively strong. To drink it is to have a quintessential Minneapolis experience—to taste something so good it's endured a craft beer sea change and still remains a top-tier brew. Don't sleep on the rest of their roster, either. There haven't been many misses from Town Hall since Masala Mama raised their profile in the local scene.

PROHIBITION BAR

821 S. MARQUETTE AVENUE Specialty: Cocktails with a view Distance from stadium: 0.8 miles Unlike most speakeasies, Prohibition Bar isn't buried in a basement. It dares to take over the penthouse suite, sitting atop the W Hotel on Marquette. Prohibition is Minneapolis' most scenic bar, but you've gotta ante up a little more for the experience. Drinks are typically $15-$20 when it's not happy hour, and Prohibition enforces "dress to impress" attire, so they may ask you to leave if you're still sporting your game jersey.

HELL'S KITCHEN

80 S. NINTH STREET

Specialty: Straight shootin' Distance from stadium: 0.9 miles Lovingly fierce, Hell's Kitchen is near and dear to the hearts of Minneapolitans for its no-bullshit service and brunch. That attitude is reflected in their utilitarian bar menu, which includes an array of AM cocktails, including the infamously overloaded Jacked Up Bloody Mary. If you prefer to drink after dark, like many terrestrial humans, Hell's Kitchen has a you-call-it menu replete with local spirits. You can even get a flight of straight pours.

THE RED SEA

320 CEDAR AVENUE S.

Specialty: Ethiopian beer Distance from stadium: 0.9 miles It's the 46th largest city in America, but Minneapolis boasts the ninth-largest African community in the country. As such, encountering East African culture is essential to the Minneapolis experience. The Red Sea was Minneapolis' first Ethiopian joint, and it's become an embassy for the wonderful drinks from that region. Red Sea features five Ethiopian beers, most notably Harar Pale Lager, as well as plenty of continental favorites.

THE LOCAL

931 NICOLLET MALL

Specialty: Rich mahogany Distance from the stadium: 1 mile Kieran Folliard set out to create the perfect stateside Irish bar when he co-founded the Local—a sprawling but cozy and well-wooded tavern on Nicollet Mall. You can lose yourself in the maze of beveled glass booths, sink into a tufted leather bench, and enjoy a bready stout from the Emerald Isle. Folliard also founded 2 Gingers Whiskey, so the Local is well-stocked in Irish spirits as well as beers. It's the perfect place to chase the cold before or after the Big Game.

BRIT'S PUB

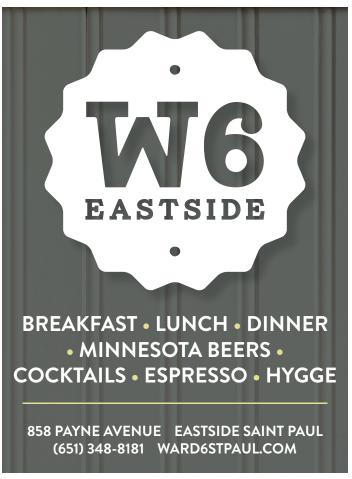

1110 NICOLLET MALL

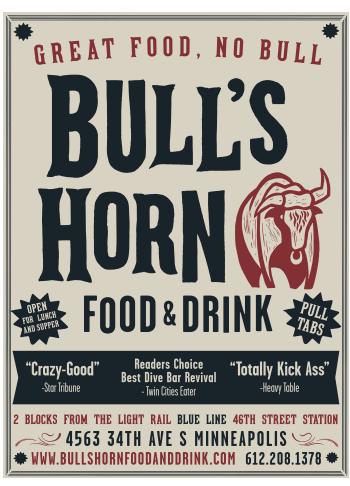

Specialty: Pool and pints Distance from stadium: 1.1 miles

The bar's famous lawn bowling field will probably be closed for the season, but Brit's has two floors of pool tables to romp around in during the dead time before kickoff. Sure, Brit's specializes in the other kind of football, but the friendly atmosphere and English homestyle menu are enough to bridge that divide. Fancy yourself an international sportsman? Pop in for afternoon tea or a pint of Old Speckled Hen.

10 Can't-miss Restaurants in Downtown Minneapolis

IT'S A SCIENTIFICALLY UNPROVEN FACT: WATCHING FOOT-BALL, OR EVEN ANTICIPATING THE WATCHING OF FOOTBALL, MAKES YOU RAVENOUSLY HUNGRY. SURE, YOU MAY NOT BE THE RUNNING BACK RIPPING OFF A 35-YARD RUN TO THE END ZONE, BUT WHILE YOU'RE WATCHING, YOUR HEART'S POUNDING ALL THE SAME—AND ALL THAT ADRENALINE CAN WORK UP A SERIOUS APPETITE.

THANKFULLY, YOU'RE IN THE RIGHT PLACE: U.S. BANK STADIUM IS AT THE EPICENTER OF ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S MOST HAPPENING FOOD SCENES, FULL OF FUNKY FOOD TRUCKS AND JAMES BEARD AWARD-WINNING CHEFS. (IF THAT INFORMATION'S NEWS TO YOU. CHALK THAT UP TO OUR CRIPPLING MINNESOTA MODESTY: WE HAVE A HARD TIME BRAGGING ABOUT EVEN THINGS THAT ARE DEMON-STRABLY TRUE.)

YES, RESTAURANTS WILL BE PACKED, SO YOU'LL NEED A GAME PLAN: RESERVE NOW, OR SHOW UP EARLY OR LATE AT FIRST-COME, FIRST-SERVED ESTABLISHMENTS. WE'VE CALLED AHEAD AND SAVED YOU THE FIRSTHAND HEART-BREAK OF DISCOVERING THAT A FEW HEAVY HITTERS HAVE BEEN BOOKED UP SINCE, WELL, DECEMBER. (ALAS, IF YOU'RE DEAD SET ON OUR MUCH-LAUDED SPOON AND STA-BLE, HERE'S A LITTLE SECRET: THEY'RE STILL TAKING RES-ERVATIONS FOR BRUNCH ON SUPER BOWL SUNDAY, BISON TARTARE AND RED WINE POACHED EGGS. ANYONE?)

AT PRESS TIME, THE FOLLOWING RESTAURANTS THAT TAKE RESERVATIONS STILL EITHER HAD OPEN TABLES. KEEP A WALK-IN WAIT LIST, OR HAVE AMPLE BAR SEATING, THE REST MAINTAIN A NO-RESERVATIONS POLICY. OTHER CRITERIA: AMPLE CAPACITY, EASY TO REACH BY FOOT, PUBLIC TRANSIT. OR TAXI FROM DOWNTOWN HOTELS. AND LOCAL BEER AND WINE OFFERINGS, MOST IMPORTANTLY, THEY'RE BELOVED LOCAL RESTAURANTS THAT DEMONSTRATE THAT WHILE OUR WINTERS ARE NOT FOR THE FAINT OF HEART. YOU CAN STILL HAVE A CRACKING NIGHT OUT.

BAR LA GRASSA

800 N. WASHINGTON AVENUE

Specialty: A feast of creative small plates and house-made pastas Distance from stadium: 1.6 miles

This spirited fixture of the industrial-chic North Loop hits the elusive sweet spot between raucous red-sauce joint and white-tablecloth haute cuisine. For an especially lively evening, dine at the bar-this is one of those weird Minneapolis restaurants where (gasp!) other patrons may actually strike up a conversation with you. Fashion your own tasting menu of sorts by ordering to share. Among the can't-miss dishes are the soft eggs and lobster bruschetta, the gnocchi with cauliflower and orange, and anything off the antipasti menu. There's plenty of serious meat and fish too, from a Berkshire pork tenderloin to an eye-popping seafood platter, but save room for the coconut lime panna cotta. A well-priced wine list reaches from the Dolomites to Sicily. From January 22 to February 5, the restaurant adds lunch service. Reservations recommended.

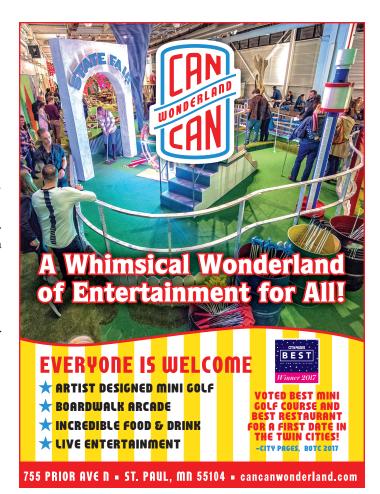

BUTCHER AND THE BOAR

1121 HENNEPIN AVENUE

Specialty: Locally sourced, wood-smoked meats paired with an impressive bourbon list and a year-round beer garden Distance from stadium: 1.2 miles

It may be a dimly lit man cave of sorts, but on a frigid winter night there's nothing cozier than sipping a flight of barrel-aged bourbons in a dark leather booth at Butcher and the Boar. In this space, envisioned as a communal dining experience, there's an emphasis on shareable dishes, like samplers of smokehouse sausages and charcuterie, as well as whimsical snacks like beer nuts and peanut butter-stuffed jalapenos. If your party's a mix of the meat-crazy and those who would settle for a decent hot dog, there's a gargantuan $69 ribeve, but there are also easy-on-the-wallet footlongs and boar sausages. Stay toasty in the heated beer garden while munching a bratwurst and sipping one of 30 local and regional beers on tap. Reservations recommended for the restaurant.

112 EATERY

112 N. THIRD STREET

Specialty: Inspired comfort food and dreamy desserts by a James Beard award-winning chef in a historic brick building

Distance from stadium: 1 mile

The only "concept" to this creative, convivial restaurant is an eclectic roster of dishes that vou didn't know vou craved because you simply hadn't tasted them before: basil spaetzle, nori-encrusted sirloin, trout stuffed with turmeric and almonds, tagliatelle with foie gras meatballs and—oh la la frog legs. With a deadly-good cheeseburger and an inviting bar area, it's a fun spot for both couples and solo diners. Upon pain of lifelong regret, don't skip the butterscotch budino.

BLACK SHEEP COAL FIRED PIZZA

600 N. WASHINGTON AVENUE

Specialty: American-style pizza with inventive toppings, cooked in a coal-burning oven

Distance from stadium: 1.4 miles

This casual corner spot is one of the North Loop's unfussiest-yet reliably tastiest-options. Eschewing the trend of Neapolitan style pizza with a blistered crust, pizzas here strike a delightfully chewy middle ground. Decision-wise, it's a toss between the fennel sausage and hot salami, and the meatball, ricotta, and garlic. Try one of the cocktails on tap, like the sparkling margarita. No reservations.

DAKOTA JAZZ CLUB AND RESTAURANT

1010 NICOLLET MALL

Specialty: An elegant nightlife spot that doubles as a brilliant restau-

Distance from stadium: 1 mile

If you're even remotely a jazz fan, you've probably heard about this much-loved Nicollet venue for local and touring musicians. However, did you know that a) there's an excellent onsite restaurant and bar. b) you don't need to buy a ticket for the show to enjoy dinner, and c) there's a twice-nightly happy hour? The playful, Southern-inflected menu-chicken and sausage gumbo, roasted hen with cheese grits-sources sustainable products. Reservations recommended.

BACHELOR FARMER RESTAURANT AND CAFE

200 N. FIRST STREET

Specialty: Neo-Nordic in a rustic farmhouse setting

Distance from stadium: 1.2 miles

No. this cozily enchanting restaurant isn't full of unmarried Scandinavian farmers—we don't actually tell out-of-towners about that place—but it is full of Nordic-inspired dishes like pork meatballs with mashed root vegetables and smoked rainbow trout with fingerling potatoes. Expect meat and produce to come from regional farmers, or from the rooftop herb and vegetable garden. It's a feast for a Viking, or at least for a Vikings fan. Reservations recommended; the attached cafe offers breakfast and lunch counter service in a charming storefront.

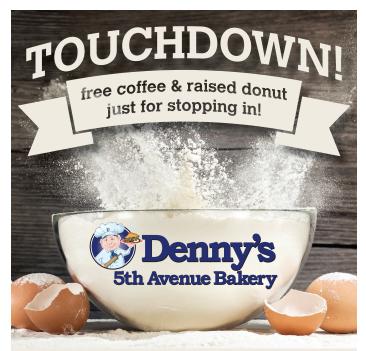

HEN HOUSE EATERY

114 S. EIGHTH STREET

Specialty: A sunny, friendly spot for lazy breakfasts and lunches, with an onsite bakery

Distance from stadium: 0.7 miles

The morning sunlight flooding through floor-to-ceiling windows may be murder on your Sunday-morning hangover, but this remains downtown's most cheerful spot for breakfast, lunch, and early dinner. How could you not be thrilled to find roomy booths laden with house-made caramel rolls and hubcap-sized omelets? (Try the namesake Hen House omelet.) The happy hour is particularly generous, with over a dozen tempting $5 plates from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. No reservations.

Seafood in Minnesota? You betcha!

SMACK SHACK

603 N. WASHINGTON AVENUE Specialty: A high-energy, casual seafood joint that gets creative with lobster

Distance from stadium: 1.4 miles As you'd expect from a restaurant that does a lobster boil, Smack Shack is boisterous, messy, and loud-even at noon-which is precisely the point. The food's better than you'd expect so remote from the Atlantic, but vou're also here to have fun. crack a few crab legs, and get butter on your chin. If you don't want to splurge on the seafood boils (along with lobster, there's crab and shrimp), go for the warm Connecticut-style lobster roll. Sidle up to the bar for lobster poutine and peel-and-eat shrimp on the happy-hour and late-night menus. Reservations recommended.

HELL'S KITCHEN

80 S. NINTH STREET

Specialty: A subterranean har and restaurant with killer brunches and a devilish sense of fun

Distance from stadium: 0.9 miles

It's a perfectly appealing spot for lunch and dinner, but that's practically beside the point: It's happy hour and weekend brunches that reign supreme at Hell's. Minnesotans don't tend toward exaggeration, so when they advertise a jacked-up 35-foot Bloody Mary and champagne mimosa bar, they're not messing. Order the State Fair cheese curds and the walleve tacos, then walk the cave-like gauntlet of black icicles to decorate your cocktail with fresh fruit, cheese, olives, fried chicken wings, waffles, and 247 kinds of hot sauce. Reservations recommended.

RED COW

208 N. FIRST AVENUE

Specialty: A sociable spot with burgers whichever way you dig them: Angus Beef, turkey, bison, ahi tuna, chickpea...

Distance from stadium: 1.1 miles You're craving a decent burger and a beer and don't want to spend more than about $25, but you feel an obligatory impulse to eat something, well, vaguely Minnesotan. So how about a local Strauss Farms grass-fed beef burger smothered in white cheddar, French onions, and chive sour cream, paired with a Fulton Lonely Blonde Ale brewed just down the block? With from-scratch soups and satisfying salads and a house-made veggie burger, this is actually a decent place to take a vegetarian—if they can overlook the Holstein wallpaper. The breakfast unexpectedly wows: We're partial to the Red Flannel hash, the A.M. chimichanga, and the red velvet

WEARY OF THE CROWDS? HERE ARE 10 GOOD REASONS TO LEAVE THE VICINITY OF THE STADIUM AND VENTURE OUT INTO THE REST OF THE TWIN CITIES.

MIDTOWN GLOBAL

920 E. LAKE STREET MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55407

Specialty: A vast, bustling food hall with international offerings from camel burgers to Moroccan tagines, plus a brewpub

Distance from stadium: 2 miles

Snag a table in one of the full-service table cafes—we love the Koreatown-inspired Rabbit Hole for their Harold & Kumar poutine, bibimbap "bop" bowls, and craft cocktails-or roam around the counter service joints to assemble a mix-and-match spread in the cheerful atrium. The outstanding Mexican offerings alone could cause decision paralysis (we've been known to require both a La Loma tamale and a Manny's torta in the same visit), but don't overthink where you have dessert. (The Salty Tart. Trust us.) There's a pay parking ramp facing the building on 10th Avenue, or try your luck with street parking.

SAINT DINETTE

261 E. FIFTH STREET ST. PAUL, MN 55101

Specialty: Modern American dishes and upscale versions of lowbrow food. Fancy bologna,

Distance from stadium: 11.2 miles The meticulous blend of highlow fare at this sleek Lowertown, St. Paul spot makes it ideal for any stripe of diner. If you're in the mood for share plates of octopus and bone marrow, indulge your inner gourmand. But if the hankering for a solidly executed bologna-and-American-cheese sandwich just won't quit, this kitchen is equally equipped. For quality brunch with Bloody Marys outside of downtown, hop the freeway east and don't look back till you've reached the sun-filled dining room of Saint Dinette.

SURLY BEER HALL

520 MALCOLM AVENUE SE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55414

Specialty: A cavernous beer hall featuring Surly on tap and meat-centric gastropub creations

Distance from stadium: 3.5 miles

This isn't merely a brewpub: It's a holy temple to beer. Gigantic, gregarious, and gorgeous, the place still feels brand spanking new-and the patrons are smiling like it's still Christmas. The menu favors, unsurprisingly, food that goes with beer: brisket and charcuterie and sausages, with a few healthy-ish plates and the Minnesota church basement-inspired Lutheran Funeral Bars. Choose from the rotating menu of two dozen Surly brews on tap, and take a wander out to the fire pits. No reservations.

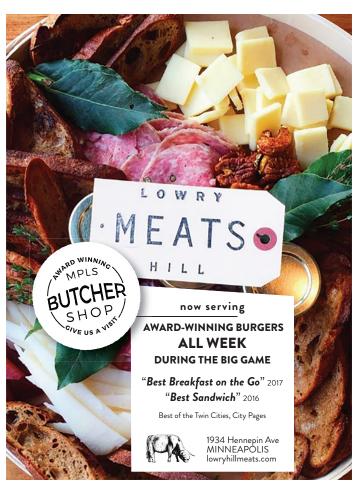

MUCCI'S ITALIAN

786 RANDOLPH AVENUE ST. PAUL, MN 55102

Specialty: Red sauce Italian with culinary flair

Distance from stadium: 8.8 miles

You want classic Italian-the spaghetti, the chicken parm, the pizza—but you also want it to be, you know, good. Slide on over to Mucci's in St. Paul for all of that cheesy, garlicky, saucy comfort food with a bit of old-school ambiance. It's a small space, so be prepared for a wait or get there early-this is a first come, first served joint. If you can't make time to get over for dinner, make sure to come back in the morning: On Saturdays and Sundays,

The famous Jucy Lucy from Matt's Bar

Mucci's serves fresh doughnuts and coffee from 8 a.m. to noon, or until they sell out.

MATT'S BAR

3500 CEDAR AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS, MN 55407

Specialty: The Jucy Lucy burger: motto, "fear the cheese!"

Distance from stadium: 4 miles

Why is it that legendary burger joints are so often known for what they don't do as for what they do well (burgers, presumably)? At Chicago's Billy Goat Tavern (made famous by a 1978 Saturday Night Live episode), they serve chips, not fries, and God forbid vou ask for a Pepsi. At Matt's Bar, a circa-1950s, family-friendly neighborhood joint whose naugahyde booths are heartwarmingly retro rather than Instagram fantasy retro, there's no ice and no plates and they don't accept credit cards. What they do have, though, is the Jucy Lucy: a double burger singed shut around a molten firebomb of cheese. Obama came here just to eat one. No reservations, but the line moves fast.

THE LEXINGTON

1096 GRAND AVENUE ST. PAUL, MN 55105

Specialty: Fancy supper club with almost a century of history behind it Distance from stadium: 7.3 miles

Remember what restaurants

Remember what restaurants used to be like? All cloth napkins and pomp and circumstance, the kinds of places where you could feel special for a night? That's what the Lexington, the grande dame of Grand Avenue, has been for 80 years. Though it was briefly defunct earlier this decade, the Lex is back in a big way. You can capture some of the oldschool magic by hauling over to the Saintly City and indulging in supper-club classics like steak and popovers and pot pie. But don't sleep on some of chef Jack Riebel's innovations, including mushroom cap escargot and beef pot au pho with bok choy and mint. The Lexington accepts reservations online, so get your ducks in a row now.

QUANG RESTAURANT

2719 NICOLLET AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS. MN 55408

Specialty: A laid-back local favorite serving fresh Vietnamese classics and bubble tea

Distance from stadium: 2.3 miles

A cherished neighborhood diner—think affordable prices, smiling servers, and plenty of regulars—Quang serves a wide-reaching menu of Vietnamese dishes, from pho to banh mi. Habit-forming dishes include the sugarcane shrimp on rice noodles and the bun vermicelli salad washed down with a jasmine bubble tea. No reservations.

REVIVAL

525 SELBY AVENUE ST. PAUL, MN 55102

Specialty: Carolina-style barbecue and fried chicken

Distance from stadium: 8 miles Revival's sister restaurant in south Minneapolis started it all with its addictive Tennessee Hot fried chicken, but Revival St. Paul has an edge over its sibling in the form of fall-apart tender barbecue brisket with tangy Carolina-style sauce. The fact that you can have some of the best barbecue and fried chicken in the Cities at the very same restaurant makes Revival St. Paul a must-visit. That you can also grab a swoon-worthy burger here makes it almost impossible to stay away. Get there early or prepare to wait there are no reservations and the tables stay full.
